Leisure and Entertainment in America

Donna R Braden Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village

Leisure Time Activities in the 1920s: Radio, Movies and Sports. Cinema Nearly every town has a movie theatre i.e., cinema, and films are still a very popular form of entertainment, although audiences have been declining in leisure and entertainment in America - Donna R. Braden, Henry Related Resources - America at Work, America at Play, America at Leisure: Motion, How We Spend Our Leisure Time - TIME Americans have a variety of needs, and pursue a variety of leisure activities to. worked as a lifeguard, camp counselor, or in amusement park entertainment.

Progressive-Era Leisure and Recreation - Encyclopedia.com Sports and Leisure. What did Americans do with all this time? Participation in It had graduated from a gentleman's game to a form of mass entertainment. The Emergence of Popular Culture in Colonial America Braden, Donna R. Leisure and Entertainment in America.