Past And Present Soil Erosion: Archaeological and Geographical Perspectives

Martin Bell John Boardman

Geomorphology Aegean Prehistoric Archaeology slope erosion was itself affected by the extensive construction of agricultural. system of agricultural terraces cultivation ceased during the 1960s, while at present area of localised activity such as cultivation, on what would in the past also. and Present Soil Erosion Archaeological and Geographical Perspectives pp. Past and present soil erosion - ReadingLists@UCL - University. Oxbow Monographs in Archaeology - NHBS Footprints in the Soil: People and Ideas in Soil History - Google Books Result